

Transform Human Interactions into Actionable Intelligence

-  Leverage superior behavioural biometrics technology to provide a seamless experience to genuine users, actively detect threats and confidently protect your customers.

LexisNexis® BehavioSec® is a leading solution for behavioural biometrics technology that expands your ability to trust digital transactions, reduce fraud and improve the consumer experience.

What is behavioural biometrics?

Behavioural biometrics technology invisibly authenticates users by analysing user device interactions when they transact online.

Behavioural data is passively gathered while a user is engaging with a website or mobile app.

For example:

- Keystroke
- Accelerometer
- Gyroscope
- Mouse Movement
- Surface
- Motion
- Hit Zone
- Pressure

Behavioural Biometrics Analysis

The behavioural data is compared to the unique profile of the user in near real time.

Behavioural Scores

Verify customers, detect high-risk scenarios and make better, smarter and more timely decisions with our behavioural scores and insights.

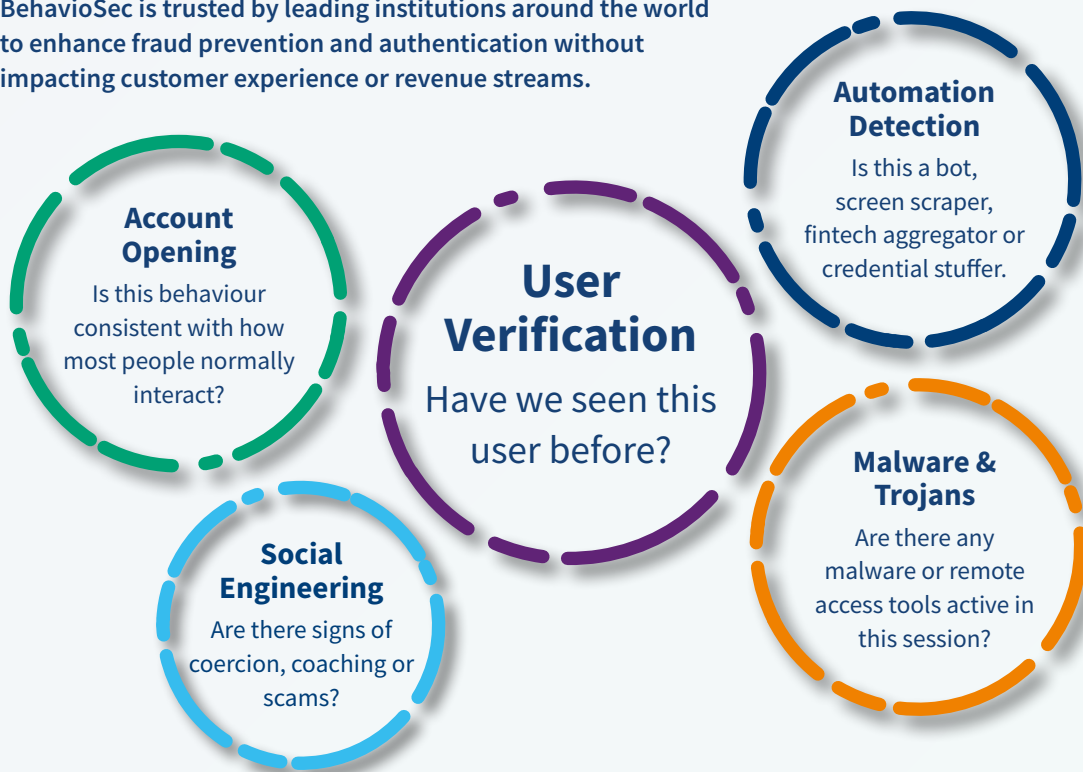

Deep Intelligence

The scores are delivered with detailed intelligence on human device interactions. This is combined with digital identity intelligence to quickly achieve situational awareness.
